

Yale Modern South Asia Workshop 2025

Call for Papers

The Modern South Asia Workshop (MSAW) is an annual two-day convening which brings together advanced PhD students working on topics of current interest in modern South Asian Studies. Constituting the 15th iteration of the MSAW, the 2025 Workshop will provide participants the opportunity to engage in scholarly dialogue with peers from around the region and globe, as well as faculty from the humanities and social sciences.

While we invite papers from all disciplines in the humanities and social sciences, particular fields of focus for the 2025 MSAW include political science, architecture, anthropology, and history.

The 2025 MSAW will be held at a location in South Asia from June 7 to 8, 2025. Travel, accommodation, and meals will be provided to participants for the duration of the Workshop.

ELIGIBILITY

MSAW participation is restricted to advanced PhD students in the humanities and social sciences who are in the process of writing and submitting their dissertations. Students in terminal Master's programs are not eligible to apply, nor are recent PhD graduates. Applicants located in South and Southeast Asia are strongly encouraged to apply.

Application Deadline: December 2, 2024 (4 pm ET)
