TRANSMONAL
REPRESSION ON CAMPUSINES IN THE UNITED STATES

YANA GOROKHOVSKAIA AND GRADY VAUGHAN
FREEDOM HOUSE
FEBRUARY 7 | 12:00 PM
GM ROOM, HORMHOWN HALL
55 HILLHOUSE AVENUE

Gorokhovskaia and Vaughan will address a new report that examines how transnational repression – a set of tactics used by governments to reach across borders to silence dissent – impacts the freedom of students and scholars with practical recommendations for university and college administrators to strengthen academic freedom.
